Learn about what a mini tummy tuck can do for you!

You can spend minutes in plank pose every day, or do hundreds of crunches a week, and still end up with a bit of a tummy pooch. A number of factors, from pregnancy to aging, cause the abdominal area to be rounder and less flat than you'd like it to be.

If you have excess fat and skin in the tummy area that you'd like to get rid of, abdominoplasty (aka a tummy tuck), can help. The surgery removes extra skin and fat from the abdominal area and tightens the muscles in that area too. There are two different types of abdominoplasty that are regularly performed by surgeons. A mini tummy tuck is a shorter and less involved version of the traditional tummy tuck surgery.

Depending on your needs and goals, a mini tummy tuck might be the better option for you. Learn more about each type of surgery so that you can make the right choice. Please call 239-594-9100 to schedule your tummy tuck consultation with Dr. Gill.

If you have stubborn belly fat that will not respond to diet or exercise, Ultrashape may be for you! This is an example of a patient of the Aesthetic Surgery Center:

Unlike other nonsurgical devices that use heat or freeze fat, UltraShape™ is the only FDA approved nonsurgical fat reduction device that uses pulsed, focused ultrasound to destroy fat cells. Administered by our highly skilled, licensed aestheticians, UltraShape™ has the potential to reduce your waistline by up to 2 inches after 3 simple in-office treatments. Once each treatment is complete, you can immediately go back to your daily activities without downtime or restrictions. The treatments are:

- Painless
- Permanent
- Effective

Our aestheticians (Katherine and Brittany) are experienced with the use of Ultrashape to achieve results such as this ASC patient!

Please call us at 239-594-9100 to set up your consultation with Dr. Gill to assess your candidacy for the procedure.
