Revision Rhinoplasty

Given the complex nature of nasal surgery, it is not uncommon for some discrepancy to occur between the goal and the actual outcome. Even surgery performed by the most skilled and experienced rhinoplasty specialists carries some chance that a secondary procedure will be necessary. Revision rhinoplasty is designed to repair problems with the nasal aesthetics or function that result from a primary rhinoplasty surgery.

WATCH AS DR. AGARWAL PERFORMS A RHINOPLASTY REVISION!

Dr. Anurag Agarwal demonstrates how he treats a patient with crooked, curved nose during revision rhinoplasty surgery. He uses the unilateral lateral crural overlay technique to bring her nasal tip back to the center of her face. The patient's before and after photographs of her revision rhinoplasty surgery speak for themselves.
