Where are incisions made for a facelift? In this video, Dr. Agarwal reviews answers to one of the most common questions relating to facelift surgery....incision placement. He discusses incisions for the Uplift and incisions for endoscopic facelift surgery. Our goal is to provide our patients with as much information as possible prior to your consultation and procedure, so that you are well prepared. Please visit our video gallery on our website, under "Resources", to view several informational videos.

Superficial chemical peels performed by our licensed aestheticians allow for controlled exfoliation of outer layers of the skin and improvement in fine lines and blemishes, which in turn reveal smooth, healthy glowing skin. Katherine and Candis provide a variety of peels customized to your skin. Please call 239-594-9100 to schedule your appointment with one of our Skin Spa experts.
